“I am a proud Black Apple from South Sacramento working toward a career in immigration/reproductive justice law.

UC Davis has given me some amazing opportunities to get involved in my campus community and prepare for law school. And this year, I was awarded the Provost’s Undergraduate Fellowship to support my research into Black immigrant experiences. I am extremely grateful for my time here at UC Davis and all of the personal and academic development experiences I’ve gained along the way.”

Connections like these are how we start creating a better world.

This is who we are.
